Agency - Radford Clothing Bank

TRUIST

Agency Details:

[\[View Opportunity \]](#)

Last updated on June 2, 2017

The Radford Clothing Bank provides good used clothing in an attractive, inviting atmosphere. This service is provided for persons in need who reside in the New River Valley (Radford City, Counties of Pulaski, Floyd, Giles, Montgomery)

Description:

Volunteers from fourteen Fairfawn/Radford churches maintain and operate the Clothing Bank in Radford. New River Valley residents who are in need (e.g., who qualify for food stamps or Medicaid, Women's Resource Center clients, etc.) may shop for free clothing. Anyone else may select clothing in return for a small donation.

The Clothing Bank also houses the Stork Exchange, where anyone may get maternity clothes, baby clothes, baby equipment and furniture.

In late summer, needy Radford children enjoy the August Kids and Coats for Kids event: School children receive a wardrobe of new school clothing and a coat or two--used and freshly dry cleaned, or new.
